Course Content

Our programme covers a vast range of content and topics offering you just the right level of customization:

— Comprehensive targeting of four main receptive and productive language competencies (reading, writing, listening, speaking) as well as related English language structures and systems (vocabulary, grammar, pronunciation).
— Dedicated workshops on profession-specific English language
— Functional language sessions to practise using language accurately and confidently in a variety of contexts
— Language and communication strategies for professional email and telephone exchanges in English.
— Key skills for successful professional presentations.
— Intercultural awareness and communication techniques, with a particular emphasis on the exploration and comparison of different cultures.

“In my career, this experience will be a great advantage: I can say that I’ve studied in a university like DCU and that I can speak English.”
José Guilherme, Student, Brazil
Teaching methodology

Our academic trainer will use the communicative approach to language teaching in all lessons. This methodology promotes interaction as both the means and goal of the language training programme. This approach will further reinforce the aim of the course in promoting communication and spoken fluency in English.

A variety of training methods will be employed to achieve the course objectives. These will include:
— Presentation of key language and structures
— Small group and whole class discussions
— Pair work and group work activities
— Role-plays, interactive tasks and quizzes
— Audio / visual input
— Presentations
Invest in your team

Our Language School welcomes over 11,000 students from over 35 different countries each year and has provided language programmes for many national and international organisations.

Accreditation and Partnerships

DCU Language Services is an official language school recognised by the Irish Department of Education and Skills. Our school is also accredited and regulated by the National Awarding body ACELS.
